This Old, Old Earth
The Smallest Light
A G. M. of the Air
Unlike Salome

By Arthur Brisbane

HOW LONG has this earth been whirling around the sun, following a spiral path through endless space? Professors Camp and Vanderhoof of California University don't know exactly. But in New Mexico they have found fossils going back 75,000,000 years, some as recent as 7,000,000 years ago.

Natives employed to dig the fossils "are deeply religious. They castigate themselves with whips, wear cactus in their sandals as penance for their sins." If they knew how old the earth is and knew that it would keep on rolling for at least 100 millions years longer they would postpone the cactus.

The University of Pittsburgh has developed a point of light so small that only a microscope can detect it.

The light comes from the point of a quartz pencil finer than the point of a needle. Ultra violet light applied to the big end of the pencil produces the world's tiniest light, that will be used under the microscope "to pick up single cells."

With this quartz pencil ultra violet rays may be introduced directly into individual diseased cells, not wasting their energy in penetrating outside tissues.

The most important airplane news concerns the organization of a "General Motors of the Air" under the wing of New York's National City Bank.

A few weeks ago Charles E. Mitchell, president of the bank, and his friends in aviation acquired the Boeing Airplane Company of Seattle, which runs air lines from Chicago to San Francisco and Seattle.

Now the National City Bank takes in the Pratt & Whitney Company that manufactures the "Wasp" and "Horse" airplane engines, and the very successful Wright Company.

That air unit now amounts to $150,000,000 and will grow, says Mitchell. They are dangerous goods. They are dangerous.

"Whitely" Sherman, sentenced to die in Georgia yesterday, demanded that Davis drawswidely against him in his trial and was a prisoner at Millington, Tenn., shortly after.

It was the governor's word at the end of the week that Davis having been wined with "Maggie" Sticks. Immediately upon hearing that Gov. Fuller had named MacDonell, an public works commissioner, as his successor, Davis was "wined" with "Maggie" Sticks.

Experiments with a short wave of the "beam wireless" show that two or three telegraphic messages, and a talker voice could all go over the interesting beam at the same time.

Singing from a distant town and two Morse telegraph messages came over the same aerial, and were received on the same apparatus. The world of science is getting complicated.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., wants to know why Mrs. Brown moved to Mr. Heidegger's farm to be housekeeper, while Mrs. Heidegger moved to be housekeeper, each taking her children with her.

The horrified community calls it "A case of two wives swapping husbands." That very thing is done, less informally, in high society, after a trip to Paris or Reno.

After a month's desperate illness, King George still continues his courageous fight for life. No better Christmas present could come to the British people than the news of his recovery. If he does recover it will be due, rapidly, to his wife and temperate living since boyhood.

Five million dollars worth of home-forming drugs, vitamins, etc., were taken in one New York seizure, on Tuesday.

How much "light beer and wine" would it take to do as much harm as $5,000,000 worth of drugs can do?

Earliest prohibitionists will say: "We don't want beer and wine." But, unfortunately, a choice between the two appears to be compulsory. Where you don't have one you have the other.

Senator Durant, of Connecticut, having made arrangements with an air company, will fly every week to spend Sunday at his winter home in the beach. He finds he can make the trip comfortably in 10 hours. It will seem slow in a year or two.

S. R. Capps, geologist, and Gerald Fitzgerald, topographic engineer, made an exploring trip in Alaska by airplane. Ordinarily a pack train takes three weeks for that trip through the mountains. The airplane made it in one hour.

This is why the airplane is common.

Girl Sets Air Time Record

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Dec. 20 (AP)—Miss Viola Gentry came down out of the rain-filled skies at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon after setting an endurance solo flight record for women of eight hours six minutes and 37 seconds.

She made a perfect landing despite the heavy rain and showed no fatigue from her hours in the air. She had departed at 5:45 a. m. today.

She had after a couple of days of practice, a solo flight from New York to New York, a record of 11 hours and 15 minutes.

Deception Island (Antarctica), Dec. 20 (Thursday) (via Whaler Hektor and KUP, San Francisco Examiner Wireless Station)—Graham Land is separated from the great Polar continent by an ice-filled channel!

The question that has puzzled geographers for ages was solved by us today.
A flight in the Lockheed monoplane San Francisco beyond the volcanic mountains of Graham Land, enabling us to see 650 miles south of here over the Antarctic continent, proved conclusively that the range lies to the south of here.

VICTORY ASSURED FOR SUNDAY SPORTS ORDER BY NICHOLS' SUPPORT

A "paw wow" was held today on Sunday sports by certain members of Boston City Council who debated the steps preparatory to tomorrow's special meeting called by President Thomas H. Green of Charlestown for immediate action on the order tabled Monday.

Mayor Nichols' ultimatum was discussed. Some of the council members objected to it as an attempt. They accused them of "prejudice." Administration men were among the critics. Democratic members defended the mayor and pointed out that his action was timely.

The conference was informal. It was a sort of "locker" of the council. While there were several real relations in their attire, the conference was informal.

City Council member Robert Gardner Wilson, Jr., of Ward 12, whose constituents voted by the narrow margin of three to one on the Sunday sports referendum, today continued.

He said that he was not a member of the council. He was not a member of the council. He was not a member of the council.

Pastor Tells Quest of Christmas Spirit

Boston has "140" the Christmas spirit. From the Boston Evening American office two men went forth dressed as the tramp, the down-and-out, the "bum" is dressed, on a 24-hour search for Christmas spirit free of the taint of hypocrisy.

They were dressed as tramps—but they were men. William L. Stidger, D. D. of the Copley Methodist Church and Boston University School of Theology, and Rev. David B. Brown, preacher of the Village Church, Nahant, and a friend in Dr. Stidger's church.

They sought in Boston the true Christmas spirit—the Christ spirit—and found it. Their experience, as Dr. Stidger has penned them, form a most dramatic Yuletide story.

THE Marines think they are hardboiled. The Marine in charge of enlistments at Park st. is sure of it—and yet he was a very kindly fellow yesterday morning when Dave Evans and I told him our hard luck story and tried to enlist in his army.

He said to me, "How old are you?" I replied that I was 21. He said, "You're a damned hard luck. There's something crooked about this game."

I was up against it, for it was my first set-up; but I tried to get out of it by a frank admission that I had lied. "I know I'm a liar," I said. "I know I'm a liar."

Rev. Dr. William L. Slidger and Rev. David E. Evans, who dressed as "down-and-outers" and then, by actual experience, tested Boston's spirit of the Yuletide. And happily they found that most of the people they met and appealed to were filled with the "IT" that Christmas spells, "good will to all men," together with cheerful giving. These pictures, by a Boston Evening American staff photographer, shows incidents of the vivid careers of the clergymen as "bums."

With but one exception, all persons approached by the "proud bums" responded to the appeals made for help. Rev. Dr. Slidger writes graphically of the experience for the Boston Evening American.

140 N. BEDFORD HIGH STUDENTS ILL WITH FLU

Stricken with what the school physician declares to be a mild form of influenza, 140 students, or more than 30 per cent of the enrollment, were absent from New Bedford high school today.

Trade, however, caused a hurried conference of school and city health officials with a possibility that the high school might be closed tomorrow instead of on Monday for the Christmas holidays.

All students absent because of the reported "flu" are attending in the morning session, given over to seniors and juniors. Within the past few days many epidemics have been sent down when they suddenly became ill.

At the conference today, Mayor Superintendent of Schools Alden W. Keith, School Physician Charles W. Milliken and Health Agent William Kirkham.

Thirteen cases of influenza were reported today to the state department of health, compared to three for the same day last year. The total number of cases for the month of December to date this year amounts to 39, compared to 21 for the same period last year.

COURT SAYS WIFE TO HAVE 'CHAPERON'

Presence of a "guest-chaperon" in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo M. MacMurray, 211 Billings rd., Woburn, was authorized today by Judge Joseph E. McCool of Northampton County.

Judge McCool maintains that the wife of Alonzo M. MacMurray is not a proper person to have in her home alone with her husband, who is alleged to be a drunkard.

The court also orders that MacMurray's divorce action, filed by Mrs. MacMurray, be stayed until the husband is reformed, naming the woman known to be as Jeanette Henderson of Boston.

Judge McCool's injunction forbids MacMurray to remove, sell or otherwise dispose of his property, real or personal, without the approval of the court.

The court also orders that MacMurray permit his wife full use and occupancy of the house, interfering in no way with her personal liberty or with the presence of a "guest-chaperon" at all times until the disposition of the divorce proceedings.

Mrs. MacMurray is by the injunction, authorized in attaching her husband's personal property to the amount of $10,000. She is also allowed full use of the house.

In her petition to the court, Mrs. MacMurray—legally Florence King MacMurray—alleges that her husband is vice-president, director and sales manager of the Norton Paint and Varnish Company of Quincy.

The acts of which Mrs. MacMurray complains took place, she alleges, on November 22, 1925.

A previous divorce action, filed by her on other grounds, was today dismissed without prejudice by Judge McCool.

The court, in awarding counsel fees to Mrs. MacMurray, ordered that payment of that sum be undertaken not later than January 12, 1926. The date of hearing was not set.

BLAST ROCKS CAMBRIDGE AND SOMERVILLE

A dynamite blast in a Somerville quarry rocked houses and other buildings in Somerville and Cambridge today, leading police and residents to believe that an earthquake had occurred.

Police in the East Cambridge station declared the station house rocked and they were just setting about investigating the cause, when telephone calls of tremors began to flood into the station.

In St. Anthony's parish house curates believed at first that the boiler in the church had exploded, so close did the blast come.

In Winthrop, Cambridge, a woman resident was toppled from a high chair by the force of the blast, but was unhurt. Teachers in the Kelly school, Willow st., Cambridge, and in the Purman school, Oak st., Cambridge, took places as for a fire drill when the building rocked and shook, but none of the children became panicky and studies were resumed.

Investigation by police finally traced the blast to a quarry at Myrtle ave. and Temple st., Somerville, where Foster Tracy, contractor, told the officers, they said, that he had secured a permit to use dynamite in blasting today.

PREFERS DEATH TO RICH WIFE

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 25 (AP)—Miss Elizabeth Abbott, member of one of Buffalo's wealthiest families, who was to have been married today to Everett E. Magler, 35, a business man, was reported to have preferred the self-inflicted death of her fiancé, Magler shot himself and died at a hospital.

The wedding was to have been a high light of the social season. No motive for the suicide could be learned. The police are inclined to the theory that Magler was a victim of an "under-the-table" romance.

Miss Abbott is a daughter of Jane Abbott, author of many children's books.

GRANDMA SORBS ON STAND IN CUSTODY CASE

In tears on the witness stand in Middlesex Probate Court, a grandmother today fought for the guardianship of her three-year-old grandchild whose mother is alleged to have died saying that father was an unfit person to raise the child.

The grandmother is Mrs. Annie L. Hutchins of Essex St., Somerville, and the child is Clara Burns, daughter of David E. and Nancy L. Burns. Mrs. Burns died in October. The father is contesting Mrs. Hutchins' petition and 25 witnesses were sworn in.

The mother and father of the little girl were living apart when the mother died, specifying a desire that Mrs. Hutchins be the guardian, according to the grandmother's testimony.

She testified under cross-examination that she had not informed Burns when his wife died, but said this was at her dying daughter's request. She told of the disappearance of Clara while out walking with her half-sister one day, whereupon Mrs. Hutchins said she filed her petition for guardianship and obtained a temporary order which she took with her on Thanksgiving Day to North Scituate, where she had learned the child was. She took the child home that day.

Mrs. Hutchins denied ever striking the father when he visited her house to see or take the baby, and said he had only made three or four visits since last March, when she took the child into her home. "Clara is very young," she said, "when asked why she wanted to be guardian. 'I think she would be more happy with me than with strangers. I will give her and a mother's love than strangers would. My daughter wanted me to keep her and I promised I would.' It was brought out that Mrs. Burns said for several years to support early this year but lost. Her child was boarded for a time with a Somerville family.

Plan Funerals of Six Mine Victims

Drakestown, Ky., Dec. 19 (AP)—Drakestown, one of the numerous mining villages in the coal fields of Kentucky, was in deep mourning today as plans were being made for the funerals of the victims of the Diamond Mining Company's mine disaster Tuesday night which claimed the lives of six men. Most of the dead were married.

Today, in the vast state columns of the Boston A&P, you will find scores of opportunities for profitable investment.

4 Rum-Laden Autos Seized by U.S. Agents

St. Albans, Vt., Dec. 19 (AP)—Four automobiles loaded with liquor were seized by customs officials during the night, and one man was arrested. Pasquale Gentile of Cranston, R. I., was found to have 150 bottles of liquor in a secret compartment of his car when he crossed the border at Alburgh.

Two automobiles with New York license were seized at St. Albans, bridge across Lake Champlain after a chase of several miles.

Short Skirts and Gold Diggers Old, Very Old

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 19 (JNS)—Dresses that reveal knees, chaste girls and reforming clubwomen are nothing new in history, according to Dr. Paul Shorey, head of the department of Greek at the University of Chicago.

These things existed in the days of Sparta and Greece, said Dr. Shorey, and even in those days they were held up to criticism by those who feared "feminine" city was disappearing.

"Gold diggers" were looking for aged millionaires in the days of Euripides and home brew was creating domestic discord even in the time of the Greek sages, he asserted.

Lloyd George III; Can't Join Debate

London, Dec. 19 (AP)—David Lloyd George was indisposed and confined to his home this morning. He was to have participated in a debate on adjournment in the House of Commons today, but his doctors forbade him to do so.

Be a Good Fellow

Youth Slays Own Dad as Rival for Love of a Girl

Atlantic City, Dec. 19 (JNS)—He thought his father was a rival for the hand of pretty Alma John, 16, telephone operator, William Corcoran, Jr., 18, said today in connection with the slaying of his father, William Corcoran, Sr., 30. The youth is in jail awaiting trial on a first degree murder charge. The girl admitted that the elder Corcoran frequently gave her presents.

Sophie Tucker to Play for Ill Vets

Sophie Tucker isn't going to say goodbye to Boston without doing her "stunt" one last time for the disabled war veterans whom she's always called "my gang." The Boston Evening American made special arrangements today for Sophie and the entire St. F. Keith Memorial Theater cast of stars to go to the Chelsea Naval Hospital this evening and stage a show for the service men who will have to spend this Christmas in beds or wheelchairs.

Broadway Mourns J. Hartley Manners

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Broadway today mourned J. Hartley Manners, playwright and actor, best known as the author of "Fog of My Heart," one of the most popular plays ever produced in America. His wife, Laurette Taylor, the actress, who rose to fame as Peg, was with him when death came at their home on Riverside drive. He was 53 years old. Mr. Manners had been ill since last summer and a month ago underwent an operation. His health failed steadily since then.

'MYSTERY SANTA' GIVES POLICE AND FIREMEN GOLD PIECES

243 SHARE GIFTS IN NEWTON

A mysterious Santa Claus eloquently expressed his Christmas good wishes to members of the Newton police and fire departments today—by presenting a $5 gold piece to every man on the roster of the two organizations.

The recipients of the gifts obtained them when they drew their pay at the office of City Treasurer Francis Newhall. Officers of both departments were remembered, as well as policemen and firemen. In all, 243 gold pieces were given out, totalling $1215.

This is the second year of the unidentified Santa's generosity. He has sworn City Treasurer Newhall to secrecy concerning his name.

COURT TO AID 3 NEGLECTED ROXBURY TOTS

There'll be no more days of hunger, of cold or of shivering on ash-heaps in the rain for 18-month-old Charles Sedgely, 7-year-old Vera Foster and 7-year-old Ada Foster, all of Roxbury.

Justice Weston of the Roxbury juvenile court today adjudged all three of the youngsters "neglected children." He ordered a two weeks investigation, at the close of which he will put the trio in an institution or in safe-keeping.

Police officers and agents of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children told of having found Charles and Vera and Ada on the streets, unaccompanied and untended. The baby, they said, was asleep on an ash heap.

Charles Sedgely of Hampton, N. H., father of the little boy, was in court, as was Mrs. Gertrude Foster, mother of the two girls. Complaints against both parents have been filed.

Today's proceedings were in private session, but Sedgely's story to police was that his wife was in a reformatory and that he was working in New Hampshire. He said Mrs. Foster to board his child, he said.

Sedgely is understood to want the state to care for his child until the mother is free.

DRUGS MAILER ON PROBATION

Probation for two years was imposed in Federal Court today by Judge James M. Morton on John J. Curley of the West End, who pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with mailing narcotics to inmates of the Soldiers Home at Togus, Me.

Curley was arrested by Federal agents about a month ago in Garden at, where a federal officer had lived with him illegally for 24 hours to obtain evidence of mail drug traffic.

A member of the community of St. John the Evangelist appeared to befriend Curley and volunteered to keep supervision over him.

U. S. Atty. Fred H. Tate raised no objections.

Says Ship Suicide Was Due to Jealousy

Albany, Dec. 19 (AP)—Jealousy over a pretty 16-year-old girl in Buenos Aires caused George Adit, 21, son of Dr. Leo P. Adit of Albany, to throw himself overboard from the Munson liner American Legion on the night of December 12. This story was brought to Albany today from New York by the sister of the heartbroken youth, Mrs. William D. McDonough.

Two Argentine aviators had showered their attentions on Catherine Schumann, daughter of a Y. M. C. A. worker in Buenos Aires, she said. Mrs. Schumann, according to Mrs. McDonough, lastly left the ship when it docked in New York. She was crying and refused to give any information regarding her friendship with Adit.

Girl Silent on Her Rich Mine 'Strike'

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 19 (AP)—Kathleen Rice, the Toronto girl known as the lone discoverer of what may be an important mineral strike north of the poa, is at the "end of her parents' patience, after an absence of eight years.

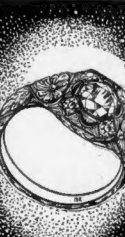

Miss Rice, known as Canada's first woman mine owner, says she is going to be "doubly sure" about the value of the copper, zinc and nickel, which she believes lie in her claim, before she talks much about her find.

CITIES' MERGER UP TO BOSTON, SAYS QUINN

Mayor Quinn of Cambridge will let Mayor Nichols of Boston take the first official step toward establishing a commission to study the advisability of a Cambridge-Boston merger, he said today.

Mayor Quinn, in answer to questions that flow thick and fast about his headquarters, stuck to his announced position that Cambridge is "willing to be shown" how it will profit by a union.

It is up to Mayor Nichols to demonstrate the workability of his merger plan, according to Mayor Quinn. Asked if he immediately would appoint the five investigating commissioners suggested by Mayor Nichols, Mayor Quinn said:

"No, I'll wait for Mayor Nichols to make the first move."

Asked to indicate those in Cambridge he might consider available for appointments to such a commission, Mayor Quinn said appointees would be "representative citizens" and men "well versed in municipal affairs."

In a letter to Mayor Nichols, Mayor Quinn reminded the Boston executive that, in the merger proposal, "the citizens will have something to say" in the referendum.

Although an official statement was forthcoming from university authorities, a Harvard professor, Arthur N. Holcomb, expert in city government, said today that he favored the merger.

"I think it would make for economy and efficiency in the government of the city, with particular reference to Cambridge, because it is the smaller of the two and would undoubtedly derive many benefits from such a union," Prof. Holcomb said.

A great many Cambridge men have their business in Boston and, naturally, they are more interested in the affairs of the city of Boston than in affairs of the city of Cambridge.

Boston Man Is Held In $32,800 Larceny
THURSDAY, Dec. 19 (AP)—Edward Perry, alias Edward H. Colbert, 38, of Boston, was arrested in court today on two charges in connection with the larceny of $32,800 from the H. K. Keane & Co. store nine days ago.

Perry was arrested by state detectives in Boston yesterday, pleaded not guilty to conspiracy to steal and larceny. He was released in bail of $27,000 after his case had been continued to Dec. 23 at the request of counsel for Keane.

WITCHES 'POW' WOW' BABY TO DEATH

Lebanon, Pa., Dec. 19 (INS)—Attention of authorities today was focused anew on the "pow-wow" activities of individuals in South-Central Pennsylvania when an infant, said to have been a victim of witchcraft, was found dead of malnutrition.

The child, Verling Davis, son of Verma Davis of Frederickburg, had been ill for some time and after a physician had been called without effecting a cure the mother was said by authorities to have called a "pow-wow" doctor.

After several visits of the "pow-wow" doctor, who was said to be a woman, the child died. Governor J. Herbert Brumbaugh said the child succumbed to malnutrition.

Manbeck said the child apparently had not suffered from the "pow-wow" treatment, but that death was caused by lack of medical attention.

Legion Thanks Fuller
Thanks of the state department American Legion were conveyed today to Governor Fuller for his appointment of Justice T. O'Connell of Boston to the Superior court bench. Justice O'Connell is chairman of the state legion legislative committee.

Whiskey Flasks Put on Reverse Xmas Trees

The Yuletide spirit came early, but in an informal way, to Reverse today, carrying with it a hint that Santa Claus may, this year, be at least 100 proof.

For three nights two huge Christmas trees in front of City Hall have been illuminated—and tonight they have been, too. But today, when Traffic Officer James Dooley visited the bus in front of City Hall he noticed motorists grinning at the trees.

Five empty pint size whiskey bottles had been hung on the trees by some joker, presumably in hope that Santa Claus would fill them.

Officer Dooley, blushing, cut down the empires.

Flying Parson Is Now Air Mail Pilot

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Rev. Theophilus Lee, Jr., a Methodist preacher, became a full-fledged air mail pilot today when Postmaster General New approved his application to fly with the mail between Los Angeles and Seattle.

Lee already had the right to call himself a flying parson, having a transport license from the Department of Commerce and a flying record of more than 600 hours in the air.

Lee is a member of the First Methodist Church in San Francisco and has taught school in Hawaii.

'LOST' R. I. GIRL SLEPT IN BARN WHILE HUNTED

While state and local police scoured the countryside for her all night, Mary Gallagher, 11, slept peacefully in a barn near her own home, she said upon returning there today.

Mary said that she had become lost by taking a different street than usual on her way to St. James' parochial school. When darkness fell she said she went "up" in a barn near Providence.

Police and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Gallagher, had been checking up a story of an abduction incident in which they believed she was a victim.

Meningitis Test For Yale Students

New Haven, Dec. 19 (AP)—Discovery of a case of cerebro-spinal meningitis at Yale University resulted today in the isolation and detention of several classmates of Luther Tucker of New York city, the victim. The patient, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tucker, is being treated by specialists in New Haven hospital and is said to be doing well.

For several days Tucker had been in contact with friends and classmates and they are being given tests.

GIRL BEATS AIR PURSUER IN LOVE RACE

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 20—Excited because of the publicity she has received, and weeping occasionally, Miss Ruth McConnell, 24, of New York, arrived here today on the Overland Limited and took a taxi cab for an unannounced address.

F. E. Lane, Pullman conductor, said the young woman had confided that she was coming West for a vacation and to marry a young man.

Miss McConnell was quoted as saying that Coulter was not her uncle, as dispatches from New York said, but was a acquaintance who had sought her hand in marriage.

Lane said the girl told him she expected to go to San Francisco and become a music teacher.

Dispatches from New York and Omaha previously had said Miss McConnell had been missing from home for three weeks.

Miss McConnell dodged several reporters and cameramen waiting at Oakland to meet her by getting off the train here.

OPERA SEASON AT LOW PRICES

Something short of a revelation will take place at the Boston Opera House during two weeks starting on Christmas night.

Many a new trick has been tried by producers this season in order to ward the mysterious quality of the public towards the legitimate shows. The Shubert firm, in association with two New York opera impresarios, Maurice Peruch and Charles Davis, have decided to test the theatrical file.

They will give a season of two weeks of opera, aimed at usual in elaborate settings, with a large company, chorus, orchestra and ballet, and offer it to the public at a purely nominal price. Fifty cents to a dollar and a half.

Military Funeral for Victim of Fall

Joseph R. Galvin, City Hall employee and World War veteran, who met his death when he fell from a second-story window today while hanging holly wreaths, was buried with military honors from the Church of the Most Precious Blood in Hyde Park today.

A detail of regular army soldiers from Fort Banks and members of the Cecil W. Fogg Post, American Legion, escorted the body from the house at 21 Summer st., Hyde Park, to the church, and following the services formed an escort to Fairview cemetery, where the body was interred. The funeral was held at 11 o'clock, with the Rev. John P. McGeehan officiating.

You'll never regret a kindness buy another baby soon." Father is a disabled war veteran who earns little, "but is a good Daddy." Sons Goodfellow should help Helen and the others of her family.

46—Hosbury: Three children, with father dead and mother in poor health. Last year the eldest girl waited by the window for Santa Claus while she fell asleep—and he never came. Need shoes and a Christmas dinner.

47—Dorchester: Mother with three children took the seven children of her sister and brother-in-law after the parents died, having a struggle for existence, but all the children look forward for Santa's visit that may never be made.

48—West End: Mother, a cripple, pleading for five small children, eldest of whom also is a cripple; father out of work; grateful for anything in the line of clothing or food.

49—South End: Mother with four children; husband jobless; two boys under doctor's care; in debt for rent and food; desire any aid. If you want to be a Goodfellow for one more family, write immediately to the Goodfellow Editor of the Boston Evening American and fill out the blank published with this article. State if you wish the district of Boston, or any city, or the section of a town, in which you would like to be a Goodfellow.

WRITE AT ONCE
The Goodfellow Editor will then send you the names and letters of the needy and you can have the hearty satisfaction of learning what is needed, buying it yourself and delivering it too.

If you cannot give the time to the buying and delivering, the Goodfellow Editor will be glad to attend to it for you.
Write today to the Goodfellow Editor, Boston Evening American, Winthrop st., Boston. Tell him what you wish to do, what size family or families you wish to provide for and he will forward you or more of the pathetic letters of appeal that he is receiving every day from those who deserve.

Be a Goodfellow.

Pilot Dares Death To Save His Plane

Chicago, Dec. 20 (AP)—Another chapter in the bulky book of airplane daring was written in the skies over the municipal airport by Pilot C. Melton of the National Air Transport. One side of Melton's landing gear snapped as he took off. Other pilots took the air and by gestures pointed out his plight. For half an hour Melton circled the field, trying to decide whether to use his parachute and abandon the $12,000 plane or to attempt a landing which almost certainly meant a smashup, if not death.

He decided, and pointed the nose of his plane toward the field. The plane turned over, smashed one wing, skidded and tipped up on its nose. Melton crawled out the wreckage with a slight cut on his cheek.

Roxbury Xmas Show Tonight

Arrangements have been completed for the vaudeville show tonight under auspices of Councilor John F. Dowd and under the personal direction of Gertrude Dolan De Foy, playing in the Keith circuit in Boston. The show will begin promptly at 7:45 p. m. No seats are reserved. Councilor Dowd is in receipt of over 100 applications for aid and expects that everyone of them will be taken care of.

$47,000 In Jewels Vanish In Chicago

Chicago, Dec. 20 (INS)—Search for $47,000 in jewels belonging to Mrs. B. F. Johnston, wife of a wealthy Rye, N. Y., sugar mill, was underway today by Chicago police and investigators for an insurance company, though Mr. and Mrs. Johnston and a party of their friends were continuing on their way to the Pacific Coast in a private car.

The car containing the jewelry disappeared between the Blackstone Hotel and the private car "line" in the LaSalle at station. The Johnston party missed the jewels when they returned to the private car after a theater party.

Would a girl who was "broken" and infamously find Christmas time Boston as warm-hearted as the Rev. Dr. William L. Stidger, minister "down-and-out" found it? Read tomorrow's Boston Evening American.

五、六十年代，中國人對「自由」的定義與美國人的理解大不相同。當時中國人認為，自由就是不受任何限制和束縛，可以隨心所欲地行動和說話。這種理解與美國人所理解的自由（即在法律範圍內的自由）大相逕庭。

DIG COCONUT GROVE BILL TO GREET 1929

Plans for the welcome of the new year 1929 have been made by the management of Coconut Grove, situated on Belmont St., in the park area of the city, and the bill to greet the new year is as follows:

OCEAN CUTS GRAPE LAND

It is not entirely unexpected. It is previously has been the belief of science that the mountains, existing in the land south of Cape Horn, went on into the great south-most continent towards the Pole and perhaps beyond. A fortunate set of circumstances enabled us today to disprove that and to gain a most important insight into the geographical formation of the little known land of ice.

Had our flight today been made from the Ross Barrier it would have enabled us to see the vicinity of the Pole. But we are extremely happy over the important discovery the day brought us.

ON VOLCANIC SLOPE

After several weeks of bad weather we were favored with wonderful conditions today. Our Norwegian friends, ever helpful, worked for hours like naves with picks and shovels clearing a runway on the volcanic slopes of Deception Island.

Our monoplane, powered with a faithful Wright Whirlwind engine, functioned splendidly. Once off the ground we believed our greatest difficulty was over, but there faced us the hazard of a 100-mile flight over ice strewn water and onward over mountains mostly covered with hundreds of feet of ice and on which the recently fallen snow lay deep and soft.

A landing anywhere on the trip would mean nothing less than a wrecked machine and a journey back on foot, that is, if after the crash we could use our feet. Up we climbed. We had a thousand feet at the harbor mouth. Then we headed out over a calm sea, still strewn with icebergs and pack-ice. A tabular iceberg, like a gigantic loaf of sugar, was drifting right in our path and beyond were jagged, jagged and scarred like the mountains between which they floated. A light wind blew from the northwest.

The air was wonderfully clear. We could see the mountain peaks a hundred miles away before the high plateau of Graham Land. We pushed on, climbing steeply. In 50 minutes we have covered the 100 miles and climbed to 6000 feet.

We expected that this would be sufficient altitude to clear the top of Graham Land but we were just on a level with the plateau.

Elision turned the machine to the right and climbed to 8000 feet. Then, before us and swinging away to the west, was a narrow table land. Beyond was a broad expanse of sparkling white, broken only where Seal Island, like a bold, not unlike candles on a sugar-caked birthday cake. Ahead of us was the unknown top of the Westland Sea and the towering peaks of Graham Land and we wondered what lay beyond them.

Tomorrow I will tell how we were just on a level with the plateau.

Wilkins in Air Nine Hours in Flight Near Pole

In his latest flight in the Antarctic, Capt. Wilkins and his pilot, Lieut. Carl Ben Benson, covered 1200 miles in nine hours and 25 minutes.

They narrowly escaped crashing when they took off on a perilous runway.

We had to cross a snow bank and two narrow drains, then climb a hill with a wide ditch near the top. The machine gathered speed fairly well, but we dared not go too far until we turned the corner. Then we plowed through the snowbank, flopped into the drains, to bounce high in the air and crashed down again.

It seemed that the frail landing gear could not possibly stand the strain. But it held. The uphill stretch is fairly smooth. When he faced the ditch we had attained almost flying speed, but we bounced violently jolting me again from inside and turning the contents of the cabin on top of me.

Elision at the controls, guiding the machine with consummate skill and as the ice under the rise we soared smoothly to escape from the almost land-locked harbor. When once in the air the load was not over much for the machine. Our trouble lay in the shortness and roughness of the runway.

BYRD SHIPS IN THICK ICE

London, Dec. 20 (NS)—Heavy seas and thick ice were the main trouble in the Antarctic expedition of Commander Byrd, who left New York on Dec. 15.

The ship made only 25 miles in seven days and was docked to leave the crew to fit a new propeller. The City of New York is coming, which will be able to push through the ice and shortly leave for the south with an airplane and other supplies.

A new made a home. Have you a garage for rent? Tall talk and give location to West Wall. Write to the Editor.

Five U. S. War Aces Pay Honor to Boy Flier

New York, Dec. 20 (NS)—Twenty years after the end of the World War finds five of North America's greatest ace of the ace still flying, still pluckers of a new mode of travel.

The recent successful transatlantic flight of Richard James, 17-year-old high school senior of Flushing, L. I., resulted in the assemblage of these five aces of the air.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE BOSTON CITY COUNCIL:

A special meeting of the Boston City Council has been called for tomorrow. The question that the Council will consider is: "Shall the people of the City of Boston, who have made their wishes clear by a vote of more than three to one, be permitted to witness professional Sunday sports?"

Certain members of the Council, who previously voted to table the measure, have declared that they will vote for Sunday sports when they are assured that there shall be no advance in prices for big league baseball games.

In a letter, printed yesterday in the Boston Evening American, Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Braves, declared that there never has been, nor will there be, an advance in prices for Sunday baseball.

In today's American there is a letter from Bob Quinn, President of the Red Sox, wherein he declares, very emphatically, that there shall be no advance in prices for Sunday baseball games.

Members of the Boston City Council are scrupulous to the extent that they want a written guarantee that the prices of Sunday baseball will not be increased. Why do they not demand a similar guarantee that the Boston Elevated Railway will not increase the carfare on Sunday?

The Boston Evening American, which has supported the Sunday Sports

Bill from its inception, intends to see the thing through.

The mandate of the people is clear. It is up to the councilmen to obey. If they do not pass the Sunday Sports measure the Boston Evening American will ask them to explain why. If they do not care to tell, or if they dare not tell, the Boston Evening American will answer the question for them.

FORM NEW SOCCER LEAGUE

At a meeting of the five clubs, Providence, Fall River, Boston, New Bedford and J. & P. Coats of the American Soccer League held at Fall River last night, a new pro league was formed to be known as the New England Soccer League.

The new club will in no way affect the existing American Soccer League, for they intend to run both clubs in the respective cities.

The opening contest of the new league will be played in the city of Fall River on the 22nd inst. between the Providence and Fall River clubs.

There is also a possibility that the league will finally become an eight-team circuit, with three of the strongest clubs in the league being invited to join up.

Quinn Guarantees No Raise in Price

Sports Editor, Boston Evening American,

Dear Sir:

Answering your letter of December 18 in which you say, "Would you kindly inform me if the Red Sox intend to advance the price of tickets on Sunday in case the measure is passed," I felt sure when I talked over the radio in the Horace Partridge Hour on November 15 that I had made it positive and to the satisfaction of everyone where the Red Sox stood on this propaganda.

In order that you and the public might know what I said at that time let me quote just as I put it.

"Now in order to refute some propaganda which was spread throughout Boston during the Sunday sports campaign to the effect that if the measure passed there would be a raise in the prices on Sunday, let me say that this was so silly that I did not take the trouble to deny it, but I say now that never in the history of baseball have the prices been any more on Sunday than on any other day and I assure you here and now that the prices on Sunday will be as they are at present, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50."

I stand today as I stood on November 15 and as I have stood throughout my baseball career for the same prices on Sunday as on any other day.

The Red Sox will positively have no raise in prices on Sunday.

Very truly yours,
BOB QUINN,
President of the Red Sox.

LANCERS AND 101ST POLO TEAMS PLAY

The 101st Field Artillery polo trio will take the field in their opening game of the indoor season against the Lancers, and Troop C will engage the Danvers Second in a class game, Saturday night at the Commonwealth Armory.

The Danvers Riding Club Second will comprise Judge Manning, No. 1; William Pickering, No. 2; Leonard Pickering, back, with Jack Pickering substituting at No. 3. The Troop C team which engaged the Harvard Freshman in the opening game last Saturday, will ride in the same order with Capt. Van Ness at No. 1; Howard Needham, No. 2; and Colin Campbell, No. 3.

Newton Track Captain Beats 6 Record Time

BREAK-YEAR ANALYSIS FOR NEWTON

Ex-Chicago School Dash Champ on Newton Squad; Team Has Title Prospects

By DICK McWENNEY

A record which has stood since 1914 is believed to have been beaten at Newton when Capt. Reynolds of the Newton high track team ran the 600 in one minute 25.5 seconds.

Reynolds was picked by Coach Donald Enoch and Dr. Oscar Martin and although the Newton team was not attempting to lower the time for this distance, both Enoch and Martin agree that Enoch is officially, he toured record time.

With Reynolds setting such a record in the 600 yard dash, it is probable that the Newton team will be a factor in the championship of the state.

Bob Pearson, who broke the 300 yard record last season, is also promising favorable early in the future.

GRID MAN IN 1929

Cambrian, who held the 100 yard position on the football team, is also promising to be a factor in the 100 yard dash.

HURDLERS ARE SURGE

Hurdlers are just as scarce as high jumpers at the Newton school, but Coach Enoch will try to discover some dash hurdlers in the group of 150 candidates out for places on the team.

The first race of the season will be held on January 6, when the Medford track team will be entertained at the Newton gym.

The rest of the season will be held on January 12, 19, 26, 30, and 31. The first race will be held on January 12, 19, 26, 30, and 31.

Coach Green has 150 boys out for basketball team at Newton high school.

Three veterans, David Harrington and Schwartz, will form the nucleus of the Orange and St. Albans teams.

This is the second year of the basketball team's existence at Newton.

PONZI CONTANT—EDDIE OATMAN—LUDGER DESMARIS
These three are the main cogs in the Tiger defense. Capt. Oatman has been suffering from a charity horse lately, but he may play against the Reds tonight in Providence. Ponzi Contant has been going better than ever before.

For more than the previous year, 12 members of the City Council will be expected to report. A few guests were expected to report. A few guests were expected to report.

VICTORY IS CERTAIN

Victory for Sunday sports in Boston was assured today. Mayor Nichols' effort secured success in the opinion of political analysts at City Hall.

MAJOR READY TO FIGHT

Mayor Nichols was ready to fight for Sunday sports measure and to see it adopted. That meant that he had labeled it as a victory.

By Jack Conway

HON. THOMAS H. GREEN, President of the City Council.

I am glad to see that you have called a special meeting of the Boston City Council to speed up the acceptance of the Sunday sports bill in Boston.

"It was probably natural, Tom, that you should have been out on the line for Sunday sports from the start. You have always lived right and thought right and so want to help others to do so, Sunday sports is one of the first things to help proper living and give happiness to the masses of our people."

"I do not believe, Tom, there is any question as to where the people who elect city councilmen stand on this Sunday sports bill. They gave it their overwhelming endorsement at the recent election."

Great McGill Team Battles Harvard in Garden

Mt. Germaine, College Ice Phenom, Leads McGill Attack Against Crimson

By TED LYNCH

Reports from Canada indicate that Harvard will have its hands full tomorrow night when the Crimson faces McGill at the Garden. The best McGill outfit of the last decade will represent the Dominion in this international college puck contest.

McGill has been noted for its great hockey teams in the past but this year's aggregation tops them all. The team has acquired much of the Canadian team's skill and has watched him on other McGill excursions here.

McGill team brings here as its big offensive weapon and scorer, a young man by the name of Ralph St. Germaine. He needs little introduction to the college fans who have watched him on other McGill excursions here.

BEST COLLEGE PLAYER
He is considered the greatest hockey player in the college puck world right now.

St. Germaine has been offered many contracts many teams. He graduates from McGill this year and thus is ripe for a pro hockey offer.

Art Ross of the Bruins will try to sign St. Germaine.

Around this star Coach "Vee" Henry, himself an excellent player, has grouped a team which falls near perfection in all-around college hockey ability.

Coach Henry made a lineup that has the McGill team playing the McGill team. The McGill team, which has been playing the McGill team, is the McGill team.

JOE DUGAN
Veteran third-sacker may quit the "big top" and coach a college team, so the latest report has it. Dugan was given his release by the Yankees recently.

Passing the Puck

By BILL GRIMES
Unless Manager Ted Leonard has fully recovered from the flu, Johnny Fitzgerald will again be in the nets for the Uvaiver City Club for the McGill game.

Fitzzy was borrowed from the B. A. A. for the game, and although he did his part in putting over a victory against Harvard.

He was struck on the cheek bone by a shot from George Owen's stick before the game and received a bad cut on the forehead during the contest.

Tully Abel is the only Ranger defenseman man who has figured in a score this season. Of the 20 goals rung up by the Patriots team, eight of them were made by the second line: Murdoch, Thompson and Keating.

Herbie Lewis did not score at the Garden, but he showed enough ability to satisfy the fans that he is one of the best finds in years. Unlike most youngsters, Lewis is a team player, among with being a scorer.

Many of the Boston fans will attend the "Burrhead" game in the Providence Auditorium tonight. The Powersmen hope to put over a victory which will send them out in front in the Can-Am League standing.

Dartmouth should have little trouble disposing of Boston College tomorrow night. The Green is supposed to be a very strong team and has acquired two fine players from the last year's team, in Hal Adams and Henry Johnson.

Unless the Bruins intend to use Lloyd Klein, it would be better to farm out this youngster to some minor league team. Klein will not find settling on the bench and, although he may play some good side points during practice sessions, actual competition will show only one way to bring Klein up to the N. H. L. standard.

Judging from the number of its citizens playing professional hockey in the States, the Chicago consulate has nothing to do but watch that some Canadian is playing and is the station. When Herbie Lewis was in town with the Cougars, the Chicago cowboys, Dutch Gaining, Tiny Thompson, Reg Mackay and Johnny Loucks, spent most of their time gossiping about things back home.

Pete Belletre, who played on the defense for the St. Pat of Toronto when Eddie Powers' squad that team, has been playing since a long time for the Detroit Olympics that Manager Jack Adams may take him for the Cougars.

As Armand Mondou is in Detroit in the defense for the St. Pat of Toronto when Eddie Powers' squad that team, has been playing since a long time for the Detroit Olympics that Manager Jack Adams may take him for the Cougars.

EDGE SET
SWEETS GREEN
TOMORROW

By JOHN R. GILLOOLY

Boston College and Dartmouth will clash at the Boston Arena tomorrow night in the opening hockey game for both squads. The veteran Big Green will be started to defeat the Edge.

Coach Foley will favor Johnny Grogan and Larry Gibson on the wings, Pete Sanford at center, and Sully and Art Morley at the points and Leon Fitzgerald in the goal.

The Eagles have been definitely settled, although Jerry Antonia may break in at the last moment and take Sully's position at defense.

This makes a fairly powerful team to take the job for Boston College. But it is greatly weakened by the loss of Capt. Nick Tesoro who was put out of the running for the winter because of a poor heat stroke on hand out a lot of punishment in one evening by bodying.

EAGLE STARES WEAK
Foley's team could probably keep Dartmouth to a close score if the first team was in condition to play through a whole contest. Where the Eagles have been playing in the spirit.

The Eagles have had few good substitutes, while Coach Fowler of the Indians has a long list, many of whom are seasoned hockey players.

Larry Gibson, who will start at left wing, is the fastest man on the team, but his legs are still weak from the illness caused by a recent attack of cold and he isn't traveling as fast as usual.

Pete Sanford, R. C. center, is the one hot on the Edge. In who will bear a lot of watch on this sophomore has been playing in a sterling game in the scrimmages and his two touchdowns against each team as the B. A. A. and Holy Cross in the practice scrimmages.

Sanford is a clever player and can break in at the last moment. A bit frail and may not stand up well against the heavy Dartmouth team which can hand out a lot of punishment in one evening by bodying.

GREEN GRIT STARS
Dartmouth has a number of foot ball stars on its squad and the attraction of seeing some of them in their best efforts is expected to draw a crowd to the Arena. Captain Armstrong will be a feature of the Green effort.

It's a substitute, defenseman, but may start against Boston, J. J. Hall. He is a clever player and can break in at the last moment. A bit frail and may not stand up well against the heavy Dartmouth team which can hand out a lot of punishment in one evening by bodying.

B. U. Hockey Forward
Line Is Shifted

Coach Wayland F. Vaughan has made a radical change in the forward line of Boston University's hockey team in effort to develop a greater scoring punch.

Holmes Whitmore has been shifted from right wing to center in place of Buck Bergholtz.

Hugh Nelson has been promoted to the regular right wing berth. Dick Lombard will remain at left wing and he is the only forward not to be affected by the shakeup.

These changes are by no means final but it is a new combination will work together as a unit during the practice and games. All start the townline game Jan. 11.

STRENGTH TAKE-OUTS OF A NO TRUMP BID

PRACTICALLY all the leading experts are agreed to warrant takeouts of No Trump, popularly termed rebus bids. Therefore takeouts should not be made simply because of weakness, even if partner's holding is more favorable, because of distribution or for other reasons, for a suit trump than for No Trump. That is, partner should not take-out unless: (a) holding high-card strength sufficient to warrant leading in a possible No Trump rebid, or (b) unless the suit he bids is of such high as to warrant its own rebid. The takeout of a No Trump should therefore be interpreted as an indication of strength rather than of weakness, and the strength shown may be either:

(a) High-card strength sufficient to warrant leading in a possible No Trump bid by partner.

(b) Suit length strength, sufficient to warrant a second take-out in the same suit or also in another suit in the same hand in case partner bids two No Trumps.

Thus the following three hand-coupled without strength of one kind or other to warrant a take-out of partner's No Trump:

Hand No. 1:
Declarer: K 9 8 7 6; Hearts: 10 4; Diamonds: K 9 8 3; Clubs: 4 2.

Hand No. 2:
Spades: 8 4 3 2; Hearts: 7; Diamonds: J 7 4; Clubs: 10 3.

Hand No. 3:
Spades: K 9 8 7 6; Hearts: Q 10 8 7; Diamonds: 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2; Clubs: 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2.

Hand No. 4:
Spades: 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2; Hearts: 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2; Diamonds: 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2; Clubs: 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2.

Game was made on this hand. What is the correct bidding and play? Mr. Whitehead's method will be explained tomorrow.

FOR COLDS

To break a cold harmlessly and in a hurry try a Bayer Aspirin tablet. And for headache. The action of Aspirin is very efficient, too, in cases of neuralgia, neuritis, even rheumatism and lumbago. And there's no after effect; doctors give Aspirin to children—often infants. Whenever there's pain, think of Aspirin. The genuine Bayer Aspirin has Bayer on the box and on every tablet. James O'Neill's Boy, Resident of Connecticut, Lampoons His Own New England

Eugene O'Neill, great American playwright, should make the acquaintance of New England.

Leaving his hotel in Shanghai for parts unknown, the dramatist wrote a letter to his physician, saying:

"I came to China seeking peace and quiet and hoping that here at least people would mind their business and allow me to mind mine. BUT I HAVE FOUND MORE SNOOPS AND GOSSIPS PER SQUARE INCH THAN THERE IS IN ANY NEW ENGLAND TOWN OF 1000 INHABITANTS."

The meaning WE get from this is that until he came to know Shanghai it was Mr. O'Neill's notion that the people of any New England town of 1000 inhabitants were just about the greatest busybodies on earth.

The son of "Monte Cristo," even if he has a dozen fine plays to his credit, does not know what he is talking about. If he went all the way to China seeking peace and quiet, and nothing else, he has wasted time and money.

If "Gene means business, we shall be glad to introduce him to several New England towns where he will find peace and quiet and nothing else but, where "snooping" is unknown and the gossips have all they can do to discuss home talent.

We guarantee that the "natives" will leave the author severely alone. Among themselves, they MAY come to the conclusion that "this fellow up on the Sanborn place—this what's his name, O'Neill—is a queer sort of jigger," but if he wants to flock by himself, let him!

James O'Neill, we repeat, does NOT know the New England small town.

Medford Police Officers Are Told to Look Wise and Say Nothing

What price brass buttons?
Chief of Police John F. Welch of Medford has issued orders that the patrolmen of his department are not to engage in long conversations. Any who may be caught in the act hereafter will be asked to make a written report of the nature of the police business they were discussing, but just the same it seems tough.

We suppose this is in the nature of or direction of modern efficiency, but just the same it seems tough.

Your modern copper—be of the boyish form—is a well-posted citizen. He can tell you all about "Strange Interlude," the poems of Gertrude Stein, the nature of rayon, the significance of the return of "Hank" and the "Rabbit" to the Braves, or the likelihood that Frank Goodwin will be able to put over his State insurance plan for automobile owners.

He CAN, but in Medford the boss says he mustn't. We hope the time will never come when the erudite watchmen of Boston will feel too uppy to talk to the taxpayer.

Praying for Boy Babies

They Drowned the Girl Babies Once in China

POOR WOMEN BEGGING THE "FATHER AND MOTHER" GODS FOR A BOY

This pathetic picture shows poor Chinese women on their knees, beseeching the child, expected, may be a boy. Little do they know that that was settled before they came to the shrine of the "Father and Mother" gods, the big images that you see in the background.

Wise is Mother Nature, not allowing the human race to control the sex of children. Men are conceited and want SONS. The poor goes don't know that only daughters inherit their good qualities—if they happen to have any.

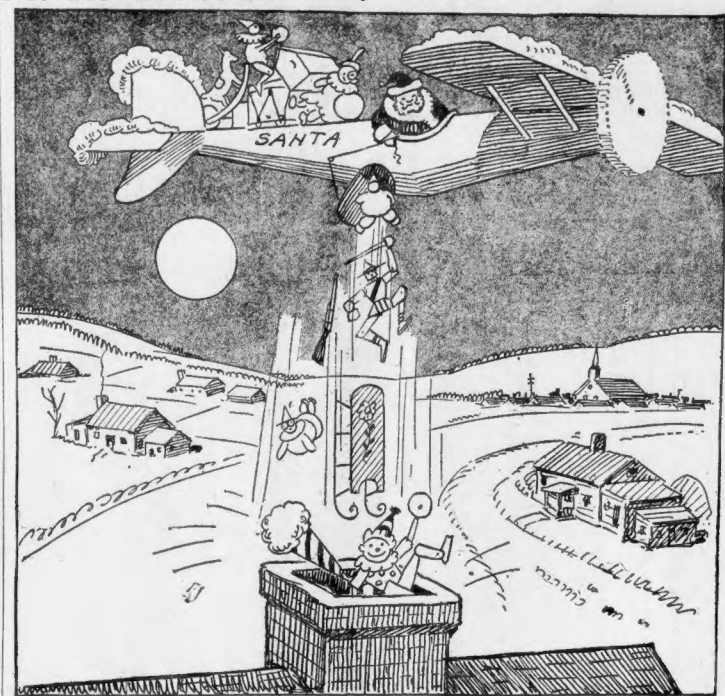

Mothers, simple hearted, want to please their husbands, to whom many have been subjected for centuries, so they hope and they pray for boys. If sex could be determined, the world would be overrun with men, not enough girls to go around.

But nature knows her children and limits their powers.

You see on the altar in front of the "Father and Mother" gods, little dolls, all boy baby dolls, given by poor mothers as propitiates the gods that "control" the children.

On their knees these poor mothers pray, "Oh Father god, send me a boy, send me a boy."

Not Yet—But Soon!

New York Day by Day

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—This is a true story, which, if fictionalized, would make magazine editors edge you toward the door, adjust your tie and suggest dropping around next summer. It began in a shabby genteel boarding house in W. 57th st., so characteristic of the 90's. She was studying art. He was a young mining engineer.

There were idyllic altitudes in the moonlit park and hand-holding on the front stoop. Then came his first big job—a call to South Africa for three years. She would gladly wait for him to return and her life became a deth and agonizing wait for the mail man.

For a year his letters were glowing with the fervor of his devotion and then one evening at dinner she opened an envelope, turned white and slumped to the floor. It read: "I have learned I can live without you. It is best that we discontinue all communication."

Time wrought his unfailing belief, and after several years she married another. She was happy, but woman's most cherished possession, pride, was hurt. Her husband understood and was indifferent to her casual flirtations. She was trying to see if she had lost her charm.

No further word had ever been received from the man in South Africa. His husband prospered, and with Africa wherever she was her eyes were constantly searching the crowds for him.

The old world featured and he was an obsession. She was far from certain her love for one who had grievously hurt her was dead, but more than anything else she wanted to see him again—just to make sure.

FREE filling stations for pocket lighters are in a half hundred stores around town. Press agent, asking for a little newspaper space, concocted the idea for a theater lobby, but thinking it would become popular.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

ARE men about to become clinging vines?

George Bernard Shaw says they are.

Someone asked him recently how the war had affected the position of women in England. He replied: "IT HAS ENABLED THE MEN TO FIND OUT THAT THEY CAN LIVE ON THE LABOR OF THE WOMEN. That has proved the possibility of economic independence for women. BUT IT HAS PROVED ALSO THE POSSIBILITY FOR MEN WHO ARE QUITE AS WILLING TO BE KEPT, AS EVER WOMEN WERE. We shall have to keep an eye on that aspect of the situation."

My friend Sally would agree with G. B. S.

Sally runs a little beauty shop out of a good apartment house district.

Last winter they were married. The boy friend continued working about six weeks in the garage. Then he got a heavy cold and laid off for a week. Week back he decided that he'd rather work in a service station. Quit his job and began to look for another. He's still looking—so he says. Meanwhile Sally runs the beauty shop. She has never heard of Mr. George Bernard Shaw, but she would agree with him a million if she had.

What is a true story. It is typical of thousands of modern working women cases.

Oh, people like that—my say, snootily.

All right, if you must be actor-like, here's another couple.

Marion's a college graduate. So's her husband. Been married fifteen years. No children—they lost their only baby. Fred's one of those fellows who always grabs the center of the stage—but with all his wiles, they never married to get ahead. Three years ago Marion got tired of sitting at home, eating her heart out for her dead baby.

She started to make some new friends. Fred's monologue. So she up and started at luncheon. One of those different luncheons. Today she has three of them, and they're regular things.

Fred? He's just as full of whoppers as ever. But he isn't working now. He's too busy inventing Marion's name for her.

Marion would also agree with Mr. Shaw.

The other day a shabby girl stood in my office with her month-old baby in her arms.

"Yes, I suppose they'll call me 'Mama' because I'm not married," she said. "But you know the kind of fellow who always grabs the center of the stage—but with all his wiles, they never married to get ahead. Three years ago Marion got tired of sitting at home, eating her heart out for her dead baby."

Little Nancy's Petticoats

by Herbert Kaufman

For the first time in a hen's age fashions and physicians seem to agree.

Doctors now declare that the physical exposure dictated by current styles will tend to make women stronger than men.

They distinctly don't approve of Miss Netticoat and her famous petticoat—not to mention the anklelength flannels, knitted skirts, thick stockings, high shoes, heavy corsets, chemises, fascinators, dolmans and miscellaneous folderols in which young Nancy daily garbed herself.

Calves, like lambs, it seems, are best raised in the open with plenty of sunlight and air.

The higher the skirt, the fewer the chances for coughs, colds, housemaid's knee and a hundred other ills that presumably originated in reticent limbs.

A far cry from the girls' boarding school at which Capt. Marryat saw panties on the piano. Or to a historically famous occasion when the royal chamberlain snootily rejected a public gift of silk stockings for his mistress, with the statement that "the Queen of Spain has no legs."

For ages the female figure was wrapped in mystery and yardage. Present day imagination can't imagine how the race survived its former clothing cocoons—the sealed bedrooms of yesterday and hermetically shut parlors where "company" gaped and yawned in unventilated solemnity.

And yet such conditions produced housewives with sufficient energy to rear a dozen youngsters, make their clothes, cook their meals, darn, mend, bake, churn, do the family wash and snatch spare minutes for church, quilting, a peep at Dickens and a glimpse of Godey's Ladies' Book.

And lots of them are still alive at eighty.

Survivors of that generation have something to say for its coarser flour, plainer meals, active lives, early hours, calm backgrounds—for stair climbing and the regular use of Shank's mare.

Hothouse civilization has yet to make a complete case against that simpler and rugged period.

Vital statistics must finally decide between some old-fashioned and new-fangled ways.

"V" VERSES

The price you get is the price you pay. Provided our terms are fairly met, and your value will rise as your power grows. As it's bound to fall, with the bluffs you throw.

For we will not pay more than you will. The world doesn't measure rewards that way. It's the things you do, that give you the reward through. That give you the accurate value of your work.

Praying for Boy Babies

oh Mother-god, let me have a baby boy." And when the baby arrives it is a girl their poor hearts are broken.

In days not long ago, girl babies in China were drowned in considerable numbers, as they were among other primitive people, not being wanted. Boys were wanted to work and flatter the vanity of their conceited fathers.

Fortunately light is spreading THROUGH EDUCATION. The opinion of the world prevents drowning little girls, or even selling them as slaves, although both crimes still do happen.

Boston American's Policies For Boston-New England

FOR BOSTON:

- 1—Clean streets.
- 2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
- 3—Better pay for honest public services.
- 4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
- 5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land, in order that Boston properly supplies with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

FOR NEW ENGLAND:

- 1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
- 2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.
- 3—Keeping overvalued at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
- 4—Foster the property of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
- 5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
- 6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELS.

ONE are the covered wagons
Now on their last, long trek,
Leaving on time's vast desert
Only a wind-blown ribbon
Of giraffe and lion in the sand;
Gone are the covered wagons,
Gone with the youth of the land,
Gone are the little schoolchairs,
Once they seemed kin to the
Shaded porch of the barnyard.

Resting in coral caves,
Ghosts of the white-winged vessels,
Bold as the wind, and free,
Sea through the mist, but
The ships are
Gone to the south of the sea.
Yet there are great adventures
In the sea, and the sea is Greatly to greet and clasp them,
Irrepressible and far to roam.
Still are the sea's adventures,
Mountain-peaks beckon still,
While the sea's adventures
Continue to roam.
